Memorandum for: EWP

Attached is a bit of background and some statistics on our map production that ▮▮▮▮▮ 25X1A has assembled. I trust that it will be helpful in case the subject comes up again.

The chart attached gives some indication of trends. It is really three rather different charts superimposed on one page, but the message is there.

A number of points are valid:

    1.   CD produces maps on demand in response to validated requirements.

    2.   ADP advances have made it possible to do things that were in the past impractical. The methodology builds its own demand.

    3.   The NIS base maps will have to be produced even after the NIS is gone because they are used in nearly every other map request. They are indeed base maps.   Direct▮▮▮▮▮▮▮▮▮▮▮▮   25X1A
